Dear Parents

I received a letter a few months ago for RSC to take part in a competition with clubs and schools all over the UK.

From the entries I sent they are able to create a collection of books featuring art work from all around the UK and are including RSC.

I have received letters for parents to give permission for art work to be published and certificates for the children who took part.

I will receive a copy of the book once published in December 2023.

Mrs Kennedy
